

PRESS RELEASE

ATTN: SMALL BUSINESS TOBACCO MANUFACTURERS

The FDA's Tobacco Products Scientific Advisory Committee (TPSAC) will be making recommendations over the next few months that will likely have an adverse impact on your business. It is important that you keep up with the agenda and briefing materials for each TPSAC meeting, including the ones on June 8-9 and July 15-16. The meeting materials and other relevant information are available at the following web site. <http://www.fda.gov/AdvisoryCommittees/CommitteesMeetingMaterials/TobaccoProductsScientificAdvisoryCommittee/default.htm> .

Your representative on the TPSAC is Dr. John H. Lauterbach. His job on TPSAC is to represent the interests of small business tobacco manufacturing industry. He needs to hear from you NOW so he can do the best job of representing YOUR interests. Dr. Lauterbach's responsibilities on the TPSAC to represent your interests on a no-obligation basis are separate and distinct from his consulting business on tobacco chemistry, toxicology, and FDA regulation of tobacco products.

Dr. Lauterbach can be reached at 478-474-8818 (office) or at 478-731-2966 (cell). His e-mail address for TPSAC business is LAUTERBA@BELLSOUTH.NET.
